

EXPECT MORE ARRESTS TO FOLLOW U. S. RAID

FEDERAL AGENTS SEIZE BREWERS: CHARGE BRIBERY

Allege Heads of Industries Paid Million Dollars in Bribes

New York, Oct. 19.—More arrests were expected today in connection with the alleged beer bribery conspiracy which burst like a bombshell in political and financial circles of New Jersey.

Eleven men were apprehended, following a raid by federal agents on the Hotel Pennsylvania.

The state of New Jersey, it was stated today, at the office of U. S. District Attorney William Hayward, will be looked to by the government to continue the campaign launched by the federal prohibition forces.

One of those held in the case was J. Harry Foley, (department of state weights and measures, in New Jersey,) former secretary to Edward H. Edwards, former governor and now senator from that state.

New York, Oct. 19.—Charged with paying bribes of more than $1,000,000 to federal liquor agents during the past year, six heads of breweries in New York and New Jersey were seized here by federal authorities. Harry Foley, former secretary to United States Senator Edwards of New Jersey, also was arrested.

It is charged the brewers paid the million to federal agents to permit the flooding of New York city with real beer and to prevent Pennsylvania brewers smuggling their products through New Jersey to Manhattan.

Colonel William H. Hayward, United States attorney, in announcing the arrests, declared it was the biggest clean-up of liquor violators since the liquor law went into effect. The men arrested, besides Foley, were Major Herbert Katz, Paterson, N. J.; Edward Butler of Elizabeth, Harry Tuller, George Seiber of Elizabeth and Theodore L. Schwartzman and Theodore I. Goldman of Brooklyn.

The arrests were made in the Hotel Pennsylvania. General Hayward said the brewers were "paying off" Patrick T. Roche and E. R. Barnard, trusted federal agents, their weekly stipend of $4,500. Other agents seized the prisoners and hurried them before the United States commissioner, who held them in $15,000 bail each.

"It took us a year to work them into a position where we could make an arrest with the hope of conviction," said Colonel Hayward. Saul Grull and William Dunigan, New Jersey agents, were first approached by the brewers, he said, and they reported it to their superiors.

Hugh McQuillan, head of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue bureau here, said he had $80,000 of the bribe money in his safe, which had been turned in by agents after they were "paid off" by the brewers.

New York, Oct. 19.—A strange crime of family vengeance, which took the lives of five innocent persons besides that of the intended victim, was unraveled by Fire Marshal Thomas Brophy, in the alleged confession of Raymond Anderson, 18, of his part in setting the blaze which killed the six victims in Bath Beach early last Monday. William M. Ford, real estate broker, and Anderson are held on charges of murder and arson, and a third man is being sought. It was Ford's hatred of his father-in-law, George F. Keim, playwright and author of "Ginger," his first Broadway success, that led to the crime, Anderson is said to have told the fire marshal.

Anderson, an unemployed youth who did odd jobs for Ford, then told his strange story, winding it up with the statement that Ford said to him, after the result of the fire was known: "Now see what you lost by being yellow. We are all clear. Keim's life was insured with my wife as the only one to benefit, and you would have made a nice piece of change if you hadn't had cold feet." Anderson told the police and the fire marshal that he had refused to set the fire and that Ford and the other man started the fatal blaze while he sat in Ford's automobile and waited for them.

HIS ACTIVITIES FAN SENTIMENT

Above is shown Senor Manuel Quezon, whose activities in the Philippines against the administration of Governor-General Leonard Wood are said to have fanned a strong anti-American sentiment, and an uprising is feared in Manila. So strong is the sentiment for independence that General Wood may tour America to talk against granting it to the Filipinos at this time.

STATE TEACHERS BOARD TO HEAR SET OF CHARGES

To Review Allegations Against Coshocton School Head

Columbus, O., Oct. 19.—Serious charges against O. B. Clifton, superintendent of Coshocton schools, seeking revocation of his life certificate to teach, are scheduled to be heard today by the State Teachers' Examining Board.

The charges were preferred by H. W. Cresap, former high school principal, last summer. The original accusation was that Clifton falsified a certificate that Forest McCullough, former Cleveland attorney, graduated from Coshocton High School, so that he might take the state bar examination.

When Clifton appeared before the examining board to answer this charge, Cresap made other accusations of a serious criminal nature, including embezzlement of funds from a children's Red Cross fund at Gallipolis, misappropriation of money turned over to him to pay into the state teachers' pension system, immoral relations with an unmarried woman and causing an illegal operation to be performed.

All these charges will be heard by the board today. Their decision will probably be reserved until a future date.

Bodies of three additional victims of the naval disaster at Honda, 75 miles north of Santa Barbara, Cal., on Sept. 8, were washed ashore. Thousands of persons throughout Massachusetts are faced with the necessity of drinking water from unprotected ponds and streams in consequence of a long continued drought. Retail food prices, on the average of reports from 51 cities to the bureau of labor statistics, crawled up another 2 per cent during the month from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15.

RUSSIA READY TO INVADE GERMANY

PRICE OF GAS IN EAST TO BE LOWERED SOON

Overproduction Given as Reason for Cut in Rates In Section

New York, Oct. 19.—New cuts in the price of gasoline are in prospect for the eastern part of the country, according to a survey conducted today by International News Service, but there is no immediate indication of any material reductions elsewhere.

The present price of gasoline is lower west of the Alleghenies, however.

In the Midwest, pivot point of a crusade against high gasoline prices, this summer, the price has been hammered down to a point that compares favorably with the alleged extortionate price in New York—21 cents at the filling stations. On the Pacific coast, values are several cents lower than in New England.

Overproduction is generally given as the reason for recent price drops.

New York oil interests denied that the action of Governor Alfred Smith, directing Attorney General Carl Sherman to begin an immediate investigation of charges lodged by Acting Mayor Murphy Hulbert of New York City, in which it is alleged, an oil combine in New York controls gasoline prices nationally, has any effect on the predicted reductions throughout the eastern United States.

In the eastern district, according to dispatches to International News Service, Boston saw a reduction from 21 cents to 18 cents in effect today.

At Albany the price was 19 cents with independents selling at 17 cents, a drop in both cases from the 20 cents charged October 1.

Syracuse reported a uniform cost of 18 cents. Pittsburgh dealers were getting 19 cents, plus a two cent state tax. New York City paid 21 cents at filling stations.

In the Middlewestern district, Chicago prices were quoted at 15.4, the prevailing figure since August 14, when a reduction of 6 cents a gallon was made—"to meet competition."

Springfield, Ill., on the same date enjoyed a reduction from 22.8 to 16.2. Des Moines, Iowa, reported a general price of 14.5, in the city and 16.5 throughout the rural districts. Indianapolis was getting 16.2 cents, plus a two cent state tax, following an August reduction of 5.6 cents a gallon.

Alton and Wood River, Illinois, stations cut their prices to 12 cents last Sunday. St. Louis was getting 14.4.

Columbus, O. cut prices 1.5 a few weeks ago the cost now being 19 cents. Cleveland had a reduction of 4 cents during the last month, bringing the price to 19 cents today.

In the west, Denver had a 2 cent reduction on October 12, the independents getting 15 cents with the Standard and subsidiary price set at 17 cents. Los Angeles gasoline stations were getting 13 cents plus 2 cents state taxes. Some independents, selling a low test product, were asking but nine cents. San Francisco stations have been getting 14 cents, a reduction of 8 cents since January 1.

BRYAN DENOUNCES EVOLUTION THEORY

Columbus, O., Oct. 19.—Claiming that more than half of 5,500 scientists interviewed by a friend proclaimed their disbelief in a personal God, William Jennings Bryan, addressing a packed house at the Central Presbyterian Church here last night, declared that "soviet Russia is not to be compared to America's scientific soviet."

Bryan denounced evolution.

ELKS WOULD EXPEL KLANSMEN

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 19.—A nation-wide campaign to rid Elks' lodges of members of the Ku Klux Klan will be undertaken at once, it was announced here when it became known that the Atlantic City lodge of Elks, No. 276, had authorized expulsion from the order of members of the Klan. "The principles and practices of the Ku Klux Klan are in direct variance to the precepts on which the Order of Elks was founded," said Exalted Ruler Eugene G. Schwinghammer, an attorney of this city.

LLOYD GEORGE AT LINCOLN SHRINE

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 19.—David Lloyd George was a worshipper at the shrine of Abraham Lincoln here. Both the visit to the Lincoln home and to the tomb were in a spirit of deepest reverence. His appreciation of Lincoln was expressed in the tribute he wrote on a card as he sat at Lincoln's own desk in the old home. It was this: "A humble and reverent homage to one of the world's greatest men."

ENFORCING OF DRY LAWS PUT UP TO STATES

Haynes Reveals Coolidge Program Relating to Prohibition

Washington, Oct. 19.—Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes put responsibility for enforcement directly up to the states and local authorities in revealing for the first time the program for the conference of governors here tomorrow.

In outlining the drastic change of front for the states he took direct issue with Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, an issue which, it is understood, had the approval of President Coolidge.

"Methods will be outlined for further co-ordination of federal, state and local agencies," said Mr. Haynes, adding: "Responsibility for enforcement is first with municipal and county officials, then with state officials. It is contemplated by the eighteenth amendment that the smaller violations be handled by local agencies and that the larger matters, such as conspiracies, sources of supply, fraudulent withdrawals and smuggling be handled in the main by federal authorities."

Further co-operation from the states will be asked in the adoption of more sweeping and drastic penalties for violators. Commissioner Haynes said that the governors will be asked to adopt the following laws: Prescribing a death penalty for selling liquor that kills; making it a felony to destroy a still to escape detection; making it prima facie evidence of guilt to destroy evidence of guilt; providing three years' penal servitude for first offense of running a saloon; making it a felony to drive an automobile while intoxicated; making the buyer as well as the seller of liquor guilty; providing stringent padlock or nuisance abating provisions; prescribing prison sentences for any liquor purveyor who carries a gun. While this program will be recommended personally by Commissioner Haynes, it was understood it will have the backing of President Coolidge when he sounds the keynote of law enforcement to the convention.

The two men scooped up all the cash in the bank, leaving a bunch of checks. Two telephones were torn from the wall by the bandits before they fled from the building.

CRABBE REPLIES TO STATEMENT OF DEPARTMENT

Charges Dollings Subsidiary Authorized to Sell Tract of Land

Columbus, O., Oct. 19.—The North Carolina Farms Company, a Dollings subsidiary, was authorized by the State Securities Department to sell 48,900 acres of land in North Carolina to which it had no title. This, in substance, was the charge of Attorney General Crabbe in a statement late yesterday, answering the defense of the Securities Department put up by State Commerce Director Locher.

The receivers admitted that court records do not show that the North Carolina company holds title, but insisted that actual ownership rests in the Dollings subsidiary.

According to Crabbe's statement, the land changed hands three times, finally coming into the alleged possession of the Dollings subsidiary by a sale of stock but not by any transfer of property. North Carolina court records do not show a single acre owned by the surviving North Carolina Farms Company, Crabbe asserted.

COLUMBUS MAN IS ELECTED BY MASONS TO HIGH OHIO OFFICE

Campbell Voorhees, of Columbus, was selected as Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ohio, succeeding Harry S. Johnson, of Cincinnati, at the Thursday session of the Masonic Order in Springfield. Ruhl, of Cleveland, deputy Grand Master; Earle Stewart Ironton, Grand Senior Warden; Horace A. Irvin, Grand Treasurer; J. H. Fromwell, Cincinnati, Grand Secretary.

Following the installation of Voorhees, as Grand Master, by Barton Smith, past Grand Master, appointive offices in the Grand Lodge were filled. These officers are Dr. Bert D. Evans, Columbus, Grand Chaplain; Otto H. Hohly, Toledo, Grand Orator; Robert A. Milligan, Columbus, Grand Marshal; B. Frank Thomas, Youngstown, Grand Senior Deacon; Harry E. Englehart, Cincinnati, Grand Junior Deacon; A. B. Fairchild, Ravenna, chairman committee on foreign correspondence; Robert A. Clegg, Cincinnati, historian.

Cleveland was chosen as the Grand Lodge meeting place for October 15 and 16, 1924.

VAST ARMY IS MASSES ALONG POLISH BORDER DECLARES U.S. SENATOR

Prospect of Soviet Germany Imminent Avers Statesman, Who Urges America to Summon Interna- tional Conference.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Massed along the Polish border, a vast army of soviet Russian troops is held in readiness to invade Germany at any moment in support of a Communist revolution, Senator William H. King, Democrat, of Utah, declared today in warning against a threatened spread of Sovietism throughout Europe.

The Russian forces, estimated at from 50,000 to 150,000, will "smash a bridge across Poland," as soon as soviet agents give the signal in Germany for a Red revolt, King added. He said the prospect of a "soviet Germany" was imminent and that only a miracle "can prevent it."

The "miracle" would be settlement of the Franco-German reparations problem. He urged the American government to summon an international conference of the allied nations to determine a "fair settlement." If the conference were called its decision would be accepted because of world opinion, King said, even if France refused to attend.

These were the outstanding impressions gained by the senator on a 17,000 mile tour of Europe, from which he has just returned to the capital.

That Russia stands ready to throw her troops into Germany, King said, was admitted by the soviet leaders including Georges Tchitcherin, soviet minister of foreign affairs.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT FACED BY SPECTRE OF INTERNAL DISORDERS

Berlin, Oct. 19.—The Berlin government recalled General Von Lossow, commander of the Reichswehr in Bavaria, who has been unable to assert state authority over Dr. Von Kahr, the Bavarian premier and dictator.

Although federal authority was vested in General Von Lossow he was incapable of enforcing his demands in Bavaria, being defied by the various branches of the Nationalist party.

In view of the continued conflict of authority in Saxony and Bavaria the national government was forced with the choice of either cancelling the state-wide state of emergency altogether or carrying out a stern military program elsewhere.

Socialist ministers urged cancellation but a majority of the cabinet decided upon a less drastic course.

A supreme test faced Minister of Defense, Gessler today: "Either to show merciless non-partisanship, (if he wishes to establish himself as absolute dictator) or relent his authority."

But he found himself in a most difficult position, owing to the conflicting political interests. The Reds in Saxony are demanding communism while the Nationalists in Bavaria are demanding a monarchy. It seemed impossible for the national director to avoid taking one side or the other to keep the federal state intact.

London, Oct. 19.—The German government is preparing a new note dealing with reparations, it was revealed by the German embassy today. It may not be delivered for some time as Berlin has decided to make informal overtures to the allied capitals before handing in the communication.

Berlin, Oct. 19.—Practically bankrupt and with the wolf of hunger and destitution howling at thousands of doors, Germany is preparing to appeal to the world, and especially to America, for aid, Chancellor Stresemann said.

The appeal must be made to prevent the death by starvation of thousands of men, women and children in the Ruhr, the chancellor said. In view of the attitude of Premier Poincare of France, who told German Charge d'Affaires Hoesch that France would remain in the Ruhr "forever," or until Germany paid the last farthing, the dictator said that Germany was compelled to abandon the entire Ruhr population of more than 5,000,000 to its own fate. Only aid from outside sources can save them from suffering, he said.

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—The Ku Klux Klan issue threw the fifth annual convention of the American Legion into tumult.

Following a fight in which sectional belief and religious convictions were aired on the convention floor the legion delegates adopted the reports of its resolutions committee, denouncing the "invisible empire" without naming it as such.

The scrap over whether the name of the Klan should be specifically mentioned precipitated the most bitter fight ever experienced at a legion convention.

C. W. Kendrick of California led the more radical anti-klan forces, who asked that the legion declare the Ku Klux Klan as "opposed to the principles on which this nation was founded." His resolution was lost by a vote of 815 to 142, with 36 delegates not voting. Massachusetts, Connecticut and Iowa departments supported Kendrick. A counter proposal by Delegate Whitney of Oklahoma, demanding a "hands off" policy, was overwhelmingly defeated.

The resolution from the committee was then brought forward and overwhelmingly carried.

Refusal of the American Legion to accept the plea of the United States chamber of commerce for approval of the Hughes-Hoover world court was another action brought forth by the committee. French occupation of the Ruhr was approved. Preservation of the redwood forest, burial of wives of veterans of the Spanish-American and world war in national cemeteries was also urged in resolutions adopted.

The United States veterans' bureau was given a clean bill of health by the convention rehabilitation committee, which also asked that government hospitals be operated free.

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—The Ku Klux Klan issue threw the fifth annual convention of the American Legion into tumult.

GAS ORDINANCE TO ESTABLISH SERVICE CHARGE PASSED

With the passage by the Cedarville Village Council of an ordinance introduced by The Ohio Fuel Company, increasing the rate for the first 1,000 feet of gas, to take care of service charges, every municipality to which the ordinance has been presented with the exception of Xenia has passed it, according to R. W. Irwin, manager of the Xenia district.

When the Cedarville council originally received the ordinance, it was tabled, but at a meeting this week, that body reconsidered its action, lifted the ordinance from the table, and passed it.

Although reports that the company was lowering gas pressure in the village aroused citizens there, the company did not regulate low pressure of the village intentionally, according to Mr. Irwin. Changing regulators in order to have them repaired, and the substitution of a temporary regulator caused low pressure in the village one day only, according to the Xenia manager. The low pressure, he said, was unavoidable until the operation of the temporary regulators could be tested and adjusted later to give the proper amount of gas.

What action the company would pursue should the Xenia City Commission continue to ignore the proposed ordinance here, is problematical, according to Mr. Irwin, who does not believe that gas pressure would be cut off here in that event. An appeal to the Public Utilities Commission for a general rate increase would probably be the course followed by the gas company, he said. So far no action has been taken, although the ordinance was tabled by the commission sometime ago.

The proposed ordinance would raise the rate of 95 cents for the first 1,000 feet, fixing it at 50 cents for all over that amount, with five cent discount in ten days.

Cost of Beauty

My Cost, $100,000—Yours, 50c a Week

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My quest of beauty cost mother and me at least $100,000. We searched the world to get the best that science had to offer.

But those helps made me famous as a beauty. And they have kept me a youthful beauty to my grand old age.

Now I want others to enjoy those same helps. I have arranged so all may get them. Any girl or woman may use all my helps at a cost not over 50c per week.

White Youth Clay

My skin is like a baby's yet my age is 62. I owe that largely to a super-clay which France created for me.

Not like the crude and muddy clays so many still employ. The clay is white refined and dainty. It is based on 27 years of scientific study. No old-time clay brings comparable results.

I call this my White Youth Clay. It purges the skin of all that clogs it—the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings that rosy afterglow which so amazes and delights. It combats all lines and wrinkles and reduces enlarged pores.

How it multiplies beauty, how it keeps youthful bloom, is shown by my complexion. No girl or woman can afford to go without it. The cost is 50c and $1.

Two Master Creams

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser which I also found in France. Great beauty experts the world over now employ it but they charge too much.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. It simply cleans to the depths then departs. All the dirt, oil, grime and dead skin come out with it. One never knows what a clean skin means until she cleans it this way. My Facial Youth costs 75c.

My Youth Cream is my cold cream—another French creation. It contains both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to foster the skin texture. I use it as a night cream also daytimes as a powder base. Every hour I keep my skin fostered and protected by it. This matchless cream—my Youth Cream—costs you 60c per jar.

My Hair Youth

My hair is my greatest glory. It is silky, lustrous, luxuriant and grows finer every day. Dandruff, falling hair and gray hair are unknown to me.

This hair which millions envy is due to my Hair Youth. I apply it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. There it combats hardened oil and dandruff, which stifle the hair roots. It stimulates and fertilizes. Then hair thrives just as flowers thrive in a well kept garden. One minute a day does all this. My Hair Youth with eye dropper costs 50c and $1.

All druggists and toilet counters now supply Edna Wallace Hopper's products. With each comes a guarantee. Experts tell me that these are the best helps in existence. I hope that what they did for me and mine will induce you to try them. Edna Wallace Hopper, Business address, Waukesha, Wis.

Note: Miss Hopper is now appearing twice daily in the Pantages Theatres of the Pacific Coast and western states.

NEWSPAPER VALUATIONS.

The recent sale of The Marion Star owned by the late President Harding, for $500,000 has elicited interested comment and speculation over the country regarding newspaper valuations, as the amount obtained for The Star caused a gasp of astonishment from those unfamiliar with the business.

Analyzed impartially the sum brought by this newspaper with a circulation less than 11,000 and published in a city of 30,000 is quite interesting. One has only to refer to other newspaper sales of the recent past to understand the tremendous investment which the newspaper business of today represents.

It is no secret that the Pittsburgh Press, with a circulation of 150,000 daily and 200,000 on Sunday, cost its new owners more than $6,000,000. It is also a matter of record that former Governor Cox paid $350,000 for the Miami (Florida) Metropolis, and $425,000 for the Canton (Ohio) News. The Miami newspaper has a circulation of about 9,000 and the Canton property about 20,000.

These figures, perhaps, place new standards of valuation on newspaper properties, but they clearly indicate the scale on which the newspaper business is conducted, and the outlay of capital for a successful enterprise.

It took the late Mr. Harding 40 years to build up The Star from a $900 failure to a half million dollar success—years of back-breaking and spirit-wearing labor, characteristic of the exacting nature of the business.

THE STONE PILE.

The prison farm, the state roads and the stone quarries in the opinion of many penologists, offer a prospect of human reclamation infinitely superior to passive incarceration, which generally means mere dry rot, mental and physical. Condemn a man to sit with folded hands in a cell and there is little hope of restoring him to useful membership in the social order. With measureless time to brood over old crimes or plan the perpetration of new ones, there is confirmed in him the anti-social, Ishmaelite disposition which may enlist him in the ranks of evil beyond redemption.

Of course, a man who has lived off the proceeds of crime loathes the thought of hard manual labor, and the prospect increase the deterrent force of a judge's sentence.

All campaigns against the inhumanities of chain-gangs and prison-camps for the convict should discriminate between the penalty itself and the way penalty is enforced. An inhuman administration can turn the most humane provision into hellish torment.

It is a mistaken sentimentality that—because of hypothetical abuses—would deprive the prisoner of occupation. It is mistaken for two reasons: it militates against the welfare of the man himself and it increases the menace to society. Idleness, said a wise man of old, is minister and nurse of vices; and this is true in prison or out of it.

PAPER BAGS IN SCOTLAND.

When American prohibitionists offered the shopkeepers of Scotland free paper bags with dry propaganda printed thereon the offer, of course, was accepted. That was Scotch canny. Then when the anti-prohibitionists proposed to print their propaganda on the other side of the bags, that offer was accepted, too. This probably was Scotch sentiment. At all events, a merry war of propaganda is being carried on by means of the parcels in which the housewife takes home her tea or the good man is bottle. Scotland votes on the dry question next month. It can't be much of an issue in Scotland, however. All the Scotch whiskey is being shipped to the United States.

Today's Talk

THE LOST AND LOVED

Nature keeps giving. She considers nothing lost. And all that she gives she begs to have loved. It is by this that her law of desire is fulfilled.

Who is it that reaps the perfume of the flower from the topmost mountain or the blue gown'd smile deep in the valley? Who saves the peasant's song as his plow turns the dirt for the coming harvest? Who listens to catch the plodder's aspiration as he wipes the sweat from his brow, says nothing, but dreams on and on?

Where do the inspired notes of the master's violin lodge and slumber? In the softened lights of the spacious room, or out under the gold of the mellow moon, who is it that adequately measure the simplicity, the tenderness and the beauty that is here so devoutly loved, yet to so many forever lost?

Nature creates every minute. Not a second is a lost second to her. What varieties to the song of the nightingale, as it warbles its happy soul into the hours of silence and darkness.

According to our capacities are we raised to greatness by the simple appeals of the silent voices about us, whether they come from the throat of a bird, from the waft of some cool wind, or from God whispering to His flowers along the brook.

Beauty is like love—it can come only to him who is worthy to receive it.

The very air we breathe is something more than oxygen and broken elements in space. What we breathe are the sighs of the lost and loved, the budding, the blooming and the dying.

The breath of God meets ours and gives vitality to our immortal souls.

Good bakings are becoming a matter of fact in this country. Years ago, the woman who had success on bake day was rare. Now, most anyone can be proud of their bakings,—the young bride, the school-girl and all.

Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder, has made all this possible, it is sitting on the pantry shelf in millions of homes, that's the secret of baking success—the real reason for uniform and wholesome food.

Merchants leave cash register drawers open to prevent potential burglars smashing the register. They leave safes ajar to preclude yeggs wrecking the safe. Householders will soon have to leave doors and windows open to prevent thieves from wrecking their domiciles.

The other day a man completed 43 years of service as a section foreman and employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad. He retired to spend the rest of his days in rest. During his 43 years it was his duty to keep the tracks and right of way in repair and in good appearance. Railroads must run on steel tracks. Should these tracks be broken or fall in disrepair, wrecks would follow and loss of life would accrue. Therefore keeping the tracks in repair must be a responsible position. On the shoulders of those who work at the task, rests the responsibility of preventing wrecks. Weak rails must be guarded against and replaced. The section foreman straightens his back momentarily during the day to wave greeting to the president of railroad Hemphill, and druggists everywhere, passing in his personal observation.

HIS CONSCIENCE TROUBLED HIM

Mrs. Hawkins had been ailing for the past year, her condition becoming serious during the latter part of August. She had visited the Mayo brothers, specialists, at Rochester, Minnesota, for treatment, but her condition gradually grew worse.

Miller of this city and Mrs. Lavonia Marshall of Grand Tower, Illinois, and five brothers, Charles B. Fisher, Harry M. Fisher, Clarence W. Fisher, Elmer A. Fisher, and Fred C. Fisher, all of Xenia. Another sister, Mrs. May Grottenbick, died in 1912. Mr. Hawkins' death occurred October 12, 1913.

Mrs. Hawkins was a life-long

Grid-Dust

By

With the first course out of the way, football fans will sit down this week end to the meat of the 1923 gridiron menu.

Teams in action all over the country find many playing important and interesting inter-sectional contests. Local interest center in the Xenia-Greenville game at Greenville Saturday the East Side-American game at Dickerson Park Sunday, the K 4 A's St. Paul A. C. game at Washington Park Sunday and the East High-Wilberforce Academy game at Cox field Monday.

Ohio Conference interest in this section centers in the Wittenberg-Wesleyan conflict at Springfield when the new Lutheran stadium will be dedicated. The game will be a battle as it affects importantly the Conference standings, with Wesleyan given a shade to win.

Other conference games include Akron at Denison; Oberlin at Miami; Hiram at Otterbein; Cincinnati at Ohio; Case at Wooster; Ohio Northern at Reserve; Kenyon at Mt. Union; Non-conference games include St. Xavier's meeting with John Carroll of Cleveland in the Ohio Catholic championship series; Wilmington meeting Muskingum at Delaware; Dayton meeting Marietta at Dayton and Baldwin-Wallace at Ashland.

Intersectional interest centers in the Notre Dame-Princeton combat, especially since Notre Dame's defeat of the Army last week and Alabama's meeting with the Army.

Other interesting Eastern games are the contests between Colgate and Cornell, Springfield and Lafayette, Navy and Penn State, Pittsburgh and Syracuse, Bucknell and Yale and Carnegie Tech and Washington and Jefferson.

Big Ten interest in this section revolves around the Ohio State-Michigan game at Ann Arbor Saturday but other important Western Conference contests are Illinois at Iowa; Wisconsin at Indiana; Northwestern at Chicago. South Dakota plays Minnesota, Wabash meets Purdue, Bradley plays Lombard and Kansas plays Nebraska in the south Centre plays Oglethorpe.

CENTRAL HIGH TO PLAY GREENVILLE HIGH 11 SATURDAY

Announcement that the Xenia Central High-Greenville football game will not be played until Saturday at Greenville, gives Coach Earl Burger's athletes one more day of practice this week to condition themselves for a victory.

Playing games on Friday, gives the athletes only four days for rehearsals before each game, but Greenville authorities refuse to play any of their contests except on Saturday. Sentiment at the school, indicates that the blue and white warriors will tackle the Darke County aggregation with the full determination of wresting its first victory of the 1923 season from the Greenville eleven.

Little is known of the ability of the Greenville team this fall. The eleven did not open its season until last Saturday, winning from Bradford, by an imposing margin but the victory does not give fans any comparative dope on the teams that get together Saturday.

The Central High eleven has been playing a consistent game all season, losing all three contests played to date. With likely looking material, there is no real reason for the team going to pieces so completely after boasting of two championship elevens and while fans appreciate the fact that the team is inexperienced they do not condone the loose play and lack of spirit that has marked the eleven to date.

In Captain Don Fuller, Holton and Zell, the team has three good plungers and all are good defensive backfield men. Horner has developed into a crack center. Scoury and Keller take care of the tackles nicely and Doggett has been performing well at guard. Numerous experiments have been necessary in the attempt to fill the other guard position and the ends have also been a source of worry.

Students of the play of the locals this season believe Art Currie, veteran backfield man would find himself at an end this season. Currie can and will tackle, knows the game, has a prior sense of the way the play is going and can catch a pass. Holton, Zell and Fuller are essentially backfield men or line men and Currie can be shifted to an end with the least difficulty. With West Milton running the ends as it did in two games, an adept tackler at one of the flanks would have been a big aid in these games. Washburn veteran flanker, is still out with a sore knee and will not be able to play Saturday, although he is loosening up his knee for the game next week.

With Currie at end, Botorff could play quarter back, a position he seemed capable of filling in two games this fall. On defensive play, Botorff, who is a weak tackler in the open field, could be used at full back where he would be valuable in backing up the line. Holton could be witted to half and Fuller could play defensive quarter.

MY OWN SUMMONED TO BELMONT; MAY RACE PAPYRUS

New York, Oct. 19.—After Zev, star three-year-old of the Sinclear string about whose ability to race there is some suspicion, has been galloped five furlongs at Belmont Park, decision will be made sometime today by his trainer, Sam Hildreth as to whether he will be sent to the post or withdrawn from the $100,000 match race with Papyrus, English champion, tomorrow.

This is declared by prominent horsemen here to be the latest development behind the summoning of My Own to Belmont in the role of possible substitute.

As we have been given to understand, Hildreth's decision will not be made public in the event that Zev proves his condition. In fact, it is said, that everything will be done to dissipate the impression that Zev's fitness was ever doubted by Jockey Club's committee, provided, of course, the colt satisfies Hildreth of his condition. This allegation is borne out by a statement issued by C. J. Fitzgerald, personal representative of August Belmont. He referred to the hurry call for My Own as merely a "precautionary measure" and added that it was inspired by fear of a last-minute accident to Zev.

He did not explain, however, why this commendable spirit of caution did not manifest itself until two days before the race, necessitating a hasty shipment of "My Own" and imposing obvious handicaps on the Grayson colt.

The latter, in fact, could not leave Laurel until 9 o'clock this morning, according to Admiral Grayson's statement from Washington. No time was available for a last workout and this was taken to mean that My Own will either indulge in an informal gallop upon his arrival today or go to the post cold, in the event that he is named as Zev's substitute.

EAST SIDE ELEVEN TO MAKE DEBUT WITH DAYTON AMERICANS

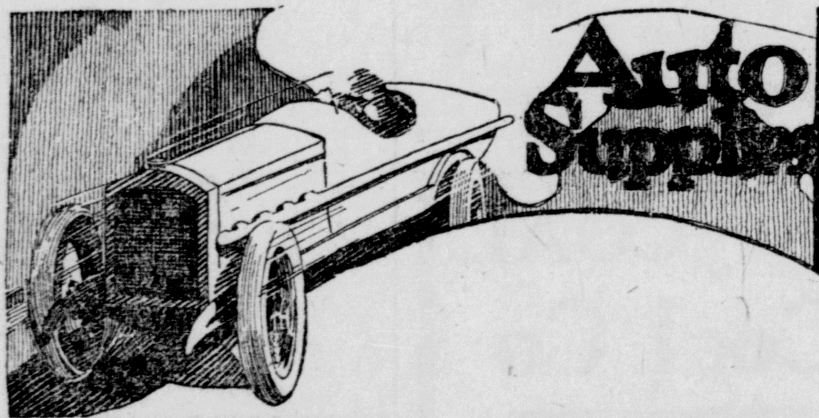

The East Side Athletic Club football team will make its gridiron debut at Dickerson Park next Sunday afternoon, meeting the American football team of Dayton.

The game will mark the first attempt of the colored athletes to put a first class gridiron in the field and the initial contest will be watched with interest. Former high school and college stars compose the eleven and initial workouts have indicated that the eleven will be well able to take care of itself against opposing teams this fall.

Allen Borden, former Xenia Central High gridiron star, will be found at halfback on the new eleven and his brother, Fred Borden, will take care of the other half. Both were members of the American Legion eleven last year and the year before. "Red" Anderson is assigned the quarterbacking job for which "Chic" Smith is giving him a close race.

"Coot" Jackson, 218 pound center, will cover the ball and Harris and Cunnigan will take care of the ends. Jamison, Buford, Vaughn, Thomas, Bowser, Pettiford and Marsh make up the rest of the team. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock and women will be admitted free, the admission for men being 35 cents.

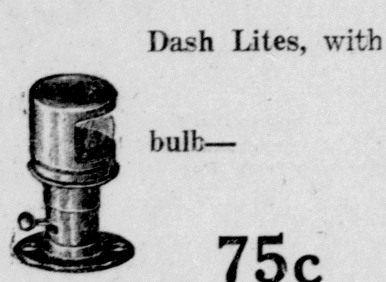

The eleven will make the field in entirely new uniforms and equipment. Practice will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Water Tower Park.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

The question of the ideal weight must ever remain an individual one; no two people even of the same sex are born with the same inherited capacities for bodily growth and development. Not only is there a difference which once attained cannot be materially altered, but there are fundamental differences in build or type which should be considered. Some frames are heavier than others, the bones are actually larger; also there are differences in relative breadth of frame in relation to height.

But even with the most thorough regime of physical exercise there will still be distinct differences in the degree or heaviness of the muscular development. Some will develop large and exceedingly strong muscles; others, even with the same exercise, will develop muscles of a lighter type, perhaps adapted to dexterity and speed and wiry endurance. When all these facts are considered it is seen that any table of ideal weights, even properly arranged for heights and sex, will still fail as a guide for a particular individual. The far better source of knowledge from which to determine the ideal weight is a well trained conception of the ideal—or more properly speaking, of their distinct types—of physical beauty. This sense for bodily beauty is instinctive in us all, but may be cultivated by the observation of such beauty, as expressed by painters and sculptors, or even better, as observed from the development of living individuals or their photographs.

One point of caution only is needed: the ideals of physical beauty have not always been maintained upon the basis of the admiration of physical efficiency or muscular development. The ancient Greeks did maintain such ideals and the imitation of their art has done much to preserve these ideals even in ages when the original ideals of physical development were lost to a world struggling between the puritanical conception that everything connected with the body was indecent and unclean, and the licentious conception that the only physical beauty was that which would stimulate passion and lust.

The practice of the puritanical world has usually been to hide the body particularly the female body, or to distort it with mutilations achieved by insane fashions in dress. Happily these absurdities have largely disappeared from the mind of the present generation and the styles in clothing of the present day, though by no means perfect are more sensible and more artistic than anything that has prevailed since classic periods.

THE "LAMB"

"The lamb is sheared again." What is a lamb? It is a common saying that the wolves of Wall street shear the lamb. We think of the lamb as a poor honest man who is deliberately tricked into giving up his money. What is a lamb? The commonest type is just a plain fool. He is not invited into the stock market. They can't keep him out. He forces his way in against all sound investment advice; he wants to get something for nothing; he follows the get-rich-quick trail; he climbs right into the poorhouse. The lamb usually has no one to blame but himself.

JUDGE ALLEN SAYS WAR MUST BE MADE ILLEGAL IN WORLD

"I favor any reasonable intelligent step which will indicate an intention to take our part in attaining world co-operation for peace," declared Judge Florence E. Allen of the Supreme Court of Ohio in an address before the Ohio Welfare Conference at Lima, Wednesday night. A number of Xenia people attended. Her subject was "The Outlawry of War."

"No league, no association, no world court can ever do away with war unless war is made illegal. Any league or association which tries to prevent war by making war is doomed," she said. "Laws are not enforced through physical force only, they are also enforced through public opinion."

She suggested a separate treaty with foreign countries outlawing aggressive warfare. She declared war would not be done away with until like duels—laws make it illegal and there would be a great moral force against it. She suggested another way to make the moral force felt against countries which make aggressive warfare is for the other countries to boycott its commerce as soon as that country formally declares war.

Dr. Craven, Public Health Commissioner of Springfield, Thursday at a meeting of the Health Division of the conference told of the splendid work being done in Springfield by their Health Department.

He emphasized the prevention of smallpox, diphtheria and typhoid by toxins and anti-toxins. He spoke of the splendid fight made in the medical world against typhoid fever which is now known to be the result of unsanitary conditions in the community and is preventable. He also emphasized the importance of quarantining what are commonly known as "child-rent diseases." He said many parents are ignorant of the bad after effects of these diseases and should be made to keep children at home while ill not only to protect other children but that the patient receive better care.

A number of Ohio public health doctors and county public health officers attended the meeting at which some of the latest discoveries in the medical world were discussed.

Mrs. Della H. Snodgrass and Louise Shaffer of the Red Cross returned Thursday evening from the conference.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

JOAN KNOWS HER DAD IS A BOOT-LEGGER

Chapter LVII

I had thought I had borne all it was possible for a woman to bear, but now I was to learn what real trouble, real heart-break meant what humiliation a woman could go through and still live! It seemed, as I watched the men search every nook and corner of my home that never again should I feel anything that might come to me. That what came after made it of so little importance I nearly forgot it, shows how much we can bear and still carry on.

Finished with their search, the men bowed themselves out, making many apologies for their intrusion. But it was some time before they left the premises. They searched the garage while I watched behind the curtains, wrathful and heart-sick, then went down to the dock. They remained down there a long while, one of them in the boat most of the time. When they drove away I breathed a sigh of relief sure they had found nothing incriminating.

"Nice family, aren't we?" Joan had come in and heard me.

"It's all a mistake, dear. It must be," I said. "If only your father were at home."

"What for? So they could nab him?" "You mean they would try to arrest him? They couldn't, Joan. They found nothing. There is nothing in this, nothing at all, and you mustn't think there is. It isn't fair to your father." I spoke firmly. Something in my child's face frightened me.

"But it's true. Dad is a bootlegger. I have known it a long time."

As the short, sharp sentences dropped from Joan's lips I sat as if frozen. She looked at me pitifully, then went on:

"You are so unsuspecting, believe so in him I couldn't bear to tell you."

But he is a bootlegger—to the rich—if that makes it any better. He doesn't peddle it out by the bottle, but by the van load or the case. You think it terrible that I like a drink. Why shouldn't I when Dad makes our living by selling it? It's usual for a merchant's family to use his goods, isn't it?" The sarcasm in her young voice made me shudder.

"How do you know what you say is true?" I asked.

"Because others know, have told of it I wonder you didn't suspect long ago. Truly bootleggers get rich as fast as we have. You remember I asked Dad to let me come to his office. Well, I went. He was out, but there were a lot of papers on his desk; they wouldn't have meant anything to me if I hadn't been suspicious. I hadn't heard things. But I know they were about liquor, that he had told us he was in the importing business as a blind. Not much of a blind either I guess considering his visits to Canada. Again her sarcasm stung me.

"No matter what he has done, dear, we must stand by him," I said desperately trying to control my anguish at her revelations. "You must never breathe what you have told me to a living soul."

"No danger. I'm not proud of being a bootlegger's daughter," Joan replied then once again gave me a strange pitying look. When she reached the door she turned, came to me and kissing me softly said:

"Poor mother!" And was gone.

For almost the first time since I married Paul I forgot to consider him, even to think of how all this horror would affect him. Al my thoughts, all my pity was for my beautiful daughter, the wilful, yet lovable girl who had always been such a problem.

"Poor Joan," I murmured. "This will be terrible for her." And for her I began to plan. Never but once in all the years had I been home and then but for a short visit when the girls were small. We had been unable to spare the money for travel and my people were in no condition financially to come to us. Brother Tom had married soon after the war was over and had a growing family to care for. We had drifted a part as so many families do. But Joan should go to them, make them a long visit forget, if she could, the shadow on our home—a shadow I firmly believed Paul would soon be able to dispel. Even if he had been bootlegging, when he knew how it affected us, heard of the visit of the Revenue agents, he would stop at once, do something honorable for a living.

"Yes, Joan shall go to mother," I said aloud.

EXPECT MORE ARRESTS TO FOLLOW U. S. RAID

FEDERAL AGENTS SEIZE BREWERS: CHARGE BRIBERY

Allege Heads of Industries Paid Million Dollars in Bribes

New York, Oct. 19.—More arrests were expected today in connection with the alleged beer bribery conspiracy which burst like a bombshell in political and financial circles of New Jersey.

Eleven men were apprehended, following a raid by federal agents on the Hotel Pennsylvania.

The state of New Jersey, it was stated today, at the office of U. S. District Attorney William Hayward, will be looked to by the government to continue the campaign launched by the federal prohibition forces.

One of those held in the case was J. Harry Foley, (department of state weights and measures, in New Jersey,) former secretary to Edward H. Edwards, former governor and now senator from that state.

New York, Oct. 19.—Charged with paying bribes of more than $1,000,000 to federal liquor agents during the past year, six heads of breweries in New York and New Jersey were seized here by federal authorities. Harry Foley, former secretary to United States Senator Edwards of New Jersey, also was arrested.

It is charged the brewers paid the million to federal agents to permit the flooding of New York city with real beer and to prevent Pennsylvania brewers smuggling their products through New Jersey to Manhattan.

Colonel William H. Hayward, United States attorney, in announcing the arrests, declared it was the biggest clean-up of liquor violators since the liquor law went into effect. The men arrested, besides Foley, were Major Herbert Katz, Patterson, N. J.; Edward Butler of Elizabeth, Harry Tuller, George Seiber of Elizabeth and Theodore I. Schwartzman and Theodore I. Goldman of Brooklyn.

The arrests were made in the Hotel Pennsylvania. General Hayward said the brewers were "paying off" Patrick T. Roche and E. R. Barnard, trusted federal agents, their weekly stipend of $4,500. Other agents seized the prisoners and hurried them before the United States commissioner, who held them in $15,000 bail each.

"It took us a year to work them into a position where we could make an arrest with the hope of conviction," said Colonel Hayward. Saul Grill and William Dunigan, New Jersey agents, were first approached by the brewers, he said, and they reported it to their superiors.

Hugh McQuillan, head of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue bureau here, said he had $80,000 of the bribe money in his safe, which had been turned in by agents after they were "paid off" by the brewers.

CRIMES CHARGED AGAINST NEW YORK REAL ESTATE MAN

New York, Oct. 19.—A strange crime of family vengeance, which took the lives of five innocent persons besides that of the intended victim, was unraveled by Fire Marshal Thomas Brophy, in the alleged confession of Raymond Anderson, 18, of his part in setting the blaze which killed the six victims in Bath Beach early last Monday. William M. Ford, real estate broker, and Anderson are held on charges of murder and arson, and a third man is being sought. It was Ford's hatred of his father-in-law, George F. Keim, playwright and author of "Ginger," his first Broadway success, that led to the crime, Anderson is said to have told the fire marshal.

Anderson, an unemployed youth who did odd jobs for Ford, then told his strange story, winding it up with the statement that Ford said to him, after the result of the fire was known: "Now see what you lost by being yellow. We are all clear. Keim's life was insured with my wife as the only one to benefit, and you would have made a nice piece of change if you hadn't had cold feet." Anderson told the police and the fire marshal that he had refused to set the fire and that Ford and the other man started the fatal blaze while he sat in Ford's automobile and waited for them.

HIS ACTIVITIES FAN SENTIMENT

Above is shown Senor Manuel Quezon, whose activities in the Philippines against the administration of Governor-General Leonard Wood are said to have fanned a strong anti-American sentiment, and an uprising is feared in Manila. So strong is the sentiment for independence that General Wood may tour America to talk against granting it to the Philippines at this time.

STATE TEACHERS BOARD TO HEAR SET OF CHARGES

To Review Allegations
Against Coshocton
School Head

Columbus, O., Oct. 19.—Serious charges against O. B. Clifton, superintendent of Coshocton schools, seeking revocation of his life certificate to teach, are scheduled to be heard today by the State Teachers' Examining Board.

The charges were preferred by H. W. Cressap, former high school principal, last summer. The original accusation was that Clifton falsified a certificate that Forest McCullough, former Cleveland attorney, graduated from Coshocton High School, so that he might take the state bar examination.

When Clifton appeared before the examining board to answer this charge, Cressap made other accusations of a serious criminal nature, including embezzlement of funds from a children's Red Cross fund at Gallipolis, misappropriation of money turned over to him to pay into the state teachers' pension system, immoral relations with an unmarried woman and causing an illegal operation to be performed.

All these charges will be heard by the board today. Their decision will probably be reserved until a future date.

SNAP SHOTS

Two men were drowned and 20 others narrowly escaped when the fishing steamer "Haleyon" foundered off Coney Island, N. Y., in a heavy sea.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Peale of Flint, Mich., and their four small children were killed when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Pere Marquette passenger train at a grade crossing near Ewart, Mich.

Bodies of three additional victims of the naval disaster at Honda, 75 miles north of Santa Barbara, Cal., on Sept. 8, were washed ashore.

Thousands of persons throughout Massachusetts are faced with the necessity of drinking water from unprotected ponds and streams in consequence of a long continued drought.

Retail food prices, on the average of reports from 51 cities to the bureau of labor statistics, crawled up another 2 per cent during the month from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15.

BANK HEAD INDICTED

Dayton, O., Oct. 19.—John J. Schwartz, president of the Miamiburg State bank, near here, was indicted on two counts by the grand jury here, for the alleged embezzlement of $104,000 from the bank.

SEQUEL OF LOVERS' QUARREL

Dayton, O., Oct. 19.—Paul Brosier, 24, shot and fatally injured himself, according to the story told police by his fiancée, Miss Helen Tracy, 23. Brosier died later in a hospital. According to Mrs. Tracy the tragedy followed a quarrel.

Reason for Cut in Rates
In Section

New York, Oct. 19.—New cuts in the price of gasoline are in prospect for the eastern part of the country, according to a survey conducted today by International News Service, but there is no immediate indication of any material reductions elsewhere.

The present price of gasoline is lower west of the Alleghenies, however.

In the Midwest, pivot point of a crusade against high gasoline prices, this summer, the price has been hammered down to a point that compares favorably with the alleged extortionate price in New York—21 cents at the filling stations. On the Pacific coast, values are several cents lower than in New England.

Overproduction is generally given as the reason for recent price drops.

New York oil interests denied that the action of Governor Alfred Smith, directing Attorney General Carl Sherman to begin an immediate investigation of charges lodged by Acting Mayor Murphy Hulberg of New York City, in which it is alleged, an oil combine in New York controls gasoline prices nationally, has any effect on the predicted reductions throughout the eastern United States.

In the eastern district, according to dispatches to International News Service, Boston saw a reduction from 21 cents to 18 cents in effect today.

At Albany the price was 19 cents with independents selling at 17 cents, a drop in both cases from the 20 cents charged October 1.

Syracuse reported a uniform cost of 18 cents. Pittsburgh dealers were getting 19 cents, plus a two cent state tax. New York City paid 21 cents at filling stations.

In the Middlewestern district, Chicago prices were quoted at 15.4, the prevailing figure since August 14, when a reduction of 6.6 cents a gallon was made—"to meet competition."

Springfield, Ill., on the same date enjoyed a reduction from 22.8 to 16.2. Des Moines, Iowa, reported a general price of 14.5, in the city and 16.5 throughout the rural districts. Indianapolis was getting 16.2 cents, plus a two cent state tax, following an August reduction of 5.6 cents a gallon.

Alton and Wood River, Illinois, stations cut their prices to 12 cents last Sunday. St. Louis was getting 14.4.

Columbus, O., cut prices 1.5 a few weeks ago the cost now being 19 cents. Cleveland had a reduction of 4 cents during the last month, bringing the price to 19 cents today.

In the west, Denver had a 2 cent reduction on October 12, the independents getting 15 cents with the Standard and subsidiary price set at 17 cents. Los Angeles gasoline stations were getting 13 cents plus 2 cents state taxes. Some independents, selling a low test product, were asking but nine cents. San Francisco stations have been getting 14 cents, a reduction of 8 cents since January 1.

BRYAN DENOUNCES EVOLUTION THEORY

Columbus, O., Oct. 19.—Claiming that more than half of 5,500 scientists interviewed by a friend proclaimed their disbelief in a personal God, William Jennings Bryan, addressing a packed house at the Central Presbyterian Church here last night, declared that "soviet Russia is not to be compared to America's scientific soviet."

Bryan denounced evolution.

ELKS WOULD EXPEL KLANSMEN

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 19.—A nation-wide campaign to rid Elks' lodges of members of the Ku Klux Klan was undertaken at once, it was announced here when it became known that the Atlantic City lodge of Elks, No. 276, had authorized expulsion from the order of members of the Klan. "The principles and practices of the Ku Klux Klan are in direct variance to the precepts on which the Order of Elks was founded," said Exalted Ruler Eugene G. Schwinghammer, an attorney of this city.

LYDD GEORGE AT LINCOLN SHRINE

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 19.—David Lloyd George was a worshipper at the shrine of Abraham Lincoln here. Both the visit to the Lincoln home and to the tomb were in a spirit of deepest reverence. It was this: "A humble and reverent homage to one of the world's greatest men."

ENFORCING OF DRY LAWS PUT UP TO STATES

Haynes Reveals Coolidge Program Relating to Prohibition

Washington, Oct. 19.—Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes put responsibility for enforcement directly up to the states and local authorities in revealing for the first time the program for the conference of governor here tomorrow.

In outlining the drastic change of front for the states he took direct issue with Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, an issue which, it is understood, had the approval of President Coolidge.

"Methods will be outlined for further co-ordination of federal, state and local agencies," said Mr. Haynes, adding: "Responsibility for enforcement is first with municipal and county officials, then with state officials. It is contemplated by the eighteenth amendment that the smaller violations be handled by local agencies and that the larger matters, such as conspiracies, sources of supply, fraudulent withdrawals and smuggling be handled in the main by federal authorities."

Further co-operation from the states will be asked in the adoption of more sweeping and drastic penalties for violators. Commissioner Haynes said that the governors will be asked to adopt the following laws: Prescribing a death penalty for selling liquor that kills; making it a felony to destroy a still to escape detection; making it a felony to provide for first offense of running a saloon; making it a felony to drive an automobile while intoxicated; making the buyer as well as the seller of liquor guilty; providing stringent penalties for nuisance abating, provisions; prescribing prison sentences for any liquor purveyor who carries a gun. While this program will be recommended personally by Commissioner Haynes, it was understood it will have the backing of President Coolidge when he sounds the keynote of law enforcement to the convention.

The two men leaping up all the cash in the bank, leaving a bunch of checks. Two telephones were torn from the wall by the bandits before they fled from the building.

CRABBE REPLIES TO STATEMENT OF DEPARTMENT

Charges Dollings Subsidiary Authorized to Sell
Tract of Land

Columbus, O., Oct. 19.—The North Carolina Farms Company, a Dollings subsidiary, was authorized by the State Securities Department to sell 48,000 acres of land in North Carolina to which it had no title. This, in substance, was the charge of Attorney General Crabbe in a statement late yesterday, answering the defense of the Securities Department put up by State Commerce Director Locher.

The receivers admitted that court records do not show that the North Carolina company holds title, but insisted that actual ownership rests in the Dollings subsidiary.

According to Crabbe's statement, the land changed hands three times, finally coming into the alleged possession of the Dollings subsidiary by a sale of stock but not by any transfer of property. North Carolina court records do not show a single acre owned by the surviving North Carolina Farms Company, Crabbe asserted.

COLUMBUS MAN IS ELECTED BY MASONS TO HIGH OHIO OFFICE

Campbell Voorhees, of Columbus, was selected as Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ohio, succeeding Harry S. Johnson, of Cincinnati, at the Thursday session of the Masonic Order in Springfield. Dr. C. L. Minor of Springfield, was advanced from Grand Orator to Grand Junior Warden. Other officers elected were James B. Ruhl, of Cleveland, deputy Grand Master; Earle Stewart Ironton, Grand Senior Warden; Horace A. Irvin, Grand Treasurer; J. H. Bromwell, Cincinnati, Grand Secretary.

Following the installation of Voorhees as Grand Master, by Barton Smith, past Grand Master, appointive offices in the Grand Lodge were filled. These officers are Dr. Bert D. Evans, Columbus, Grand Chaplain; Otto H. Hohly, Toledo, Grand Orator; Robert A. Milligan, Columbus, Grand Marshal; B. Frank Thomas, Youngstown, Grand Senior Deacon; Harry E. Englehart, Cincinnati, Grand Junior Deacon; A. B. Fairchild, Ravenna, chairman committee on foreign correspondence; Robert A. Clegg, Cincinnati, historian.

Cleveland was chosen as the Grand Lodge meeting place for October 15 and 16, 1924.

DIVORCE EVIL DEPLORED

Cincinnati, Oct. 19.—Resolutions deploring the growth of divorce, condemning usurpation of the powers of government by any group of individuals, reiterating faith in the principle of the Catholic school system and opposing "any fundamental departure from the framework of the government," were adopted by the third annual convention of the National Council of Catholic Men, ending its session here.

VAST ARMY IS MASSED ALONG POLISH BORDER DECLARES U.S. SENATOR

Prospect of Soviet Germany Imminent Avers Statesman, Who Urges America to Summon Interna- tional Conference.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Massed along the Polish border, a vast army of soviet Russian troops is held in readiness to invade Germany at any moment in support of a Communist revolution, Senator William H. King, Democrat, of Utah, declared today in warning against a threatened spread of Sovietism throughout Europe.

The Russian forces, estimated at from 50,000 to 150,000, will "smash a bridge across Poland," as soon as soviet agents give the signal in Germany for a Red revolt, King added. He said the prospect of a "soviet Germany" was imminent and that only a miracle "can prevent it."

The "miracle" would be settlement of the Franco-German reparations problem. He urged the American government to summon an international conference of the allied nations to determine a "fair settlement." If the conference were called its decision would be accepted because of world opinion, King said, even if France refused to attend.

These were the outstanding impressions gained by the senator on a 17,000 mile tour of Europe, from which he has just returned to the capital.

That Russia stands ready to throw her troops into Germany, King said, was admitted by the soviet leaders including Georges Tchitcherin, soviet minister of foreign affairs.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT FACED BY SPECTRE OF INTERNAL DISORDERS

Berlin, Oct. 19.—The Berlin government recalled General Von Lossow, commander of the Reichswehr in Bavaria, who has been unable to assert state authority over Dr. Von Kahr, the Bavarian premier and dictator.

Although federal authority was vested in General Von Lossow he was incapable of enforcing his demands in Bavaria, being defied by the various branches of the Nationalist party.

In view of the continued conflict of authority in Saxony and Bavaria the national government was forced with the choice of either cancelling the state-wide state of emergency altogether or carrying out a stern military program elsewhere.

Socialist ministers urged cancellation but a majority of the cabinet decided upon a less drastic course.

A supreme test faced Minister of Defense, Gessler today:

"Either to show merciless non-partisanship, (if he wishes to establish himself as absolute dictator) or relent his authority."

But he found himself in a most difficult position, owing to the conflicting political interests. The Reds in Saxony are demanding communism while the Nationalists in Bavaria are demanding a monarchy.

It seemed impossible for the national director to avoid taking one side or the other to keep the federal state intact.

London, Oct. 19.—The German government is preparing a new note dealing with reparations, it was revealed by the German embassy today. It may not be delivered for some time as Berlin has decided to make informal overtures to the allied capitals before heading in the communication.

BURGLARS RANSACK CLOTHING STORE IN XENIA POLICE TOLD

Small burglars with pernickety tastes sorted over clothes at the Katz and Richards clothing store, East Main Street, early Thursday evening, picking out suits to their desire and size.

Although an invoice to determine the extent of the depredations of the burglars has not been completed, E. R. Richards, manager of the store said Friday that several suits, overcoats, shirts, ties and socks were missing, besides some jewelry and about $7 in small change taken from the open register. Milton Katz, of Washington C. H., partner in the ownership of the store, came here Friday morning to assist in the check.

The burglary was committed early in the evening, the thieves gaining an entrance by forcing the wooden door over a coal chute, and making way into the store room by way of the cellar steps and a trap door. They are believed to have left by way of a rear door, which was found open at nine o'clock by Charles Phillips, merchant policeman. The open door was not reported until Friday morning, when the robbery was discovered.

Tags taken from clothes and others sorted over, indicate the burglars only wanted small sizes. They are believed to have changed into silk shirts and new suits in the dressing room. Police investigated Friday morning.

Berlin, Oct. 19.—Practically bankrupt and with the wolf of hunger and destitution howling at thousands of doors, Germany is preparing to appeal to the world, and especially to America, for aid, Chancellor Stresemann said.

The appeal must be made to prevent the death by starvation of thousands of men, women and children in the Ruhr, the chancellor said. In view of the attitude of Premier Poincare of France, who told German Charge d'Affaires Hoesch that France would remain in the Ruhr "forever," or until Germany paid the last farthing, the dictator said that Germany was compelled to abandon the entire Ruhr population of more than 5,000,000 to its own fate. Only aid from outside sources can save them from suffering, he said.

COMMITTEE THROWS SESSION INTO AN UPROAR

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—The Ku Klux Klan issue threw the fifth annual convention of the American Legion into tumult.

Following a fight in which sectional belief and religious convictions were aired on the convention floor the legion delegates adopted the reports of its resolutions committee, denouncing the "invisible empire" without naming it as such.

The scrap over whether the name of the Klan should be specifically mentioned precipitated the most bitter fight ever experienced at a legion convention.

C. W. Kendrick of California led the more radical anti-klan forces, who asked that the legion declare the Ku Klux Klan as "opposed to the principles on which this nation was founded." His resolution was lost by a vote of 815 to 142, with 36 delegates not voting. Massachusetts, Connecticut and Iowa departments supported Kendrick. A counter proposal by Delegate Whitney of Oklahoma, demanding a "hands off" policy, was overwhelmingly defeated.

The resolution from the committee was then brought forward and overwhelmingly carried.

Refusal of the American Legion to accept the plea of the United States chamber of commerce for approval of the Hughes-Hoover world court was another action brought forth by the committee. French occupation of the Ruhr was approved. Preservation of the redwood forest, burial of wives of veterans of the Spanish-American and world war in national cemeteries was also urged in resolutions adopted.

The United States veterans' bureau was given a clean bill of health by the convention rehabilitation committee, which also asked that government hospitals be operated free.

Cleveland, Oct. 19.—Three persons lost their lives in auto accidents here. Daniel Lees, 74, died in a hospital a few minutes after being run over in East Cleveland. GAS ORDINANCE TO ESTABLISH SERVICE CHARGE PASSED

With the passage by the Cedarville Village Council of an ordinance introduced by The Ohio Fuel Company, increasing the rate for the first 1,000 feet of gas, to take care of service charges, every municipality to which the ordinance has been presented with the exception of Xenia has passed it, according to R. W. Irwin, manager of the Xenia district.

When the Cedarville council originally received the ordinance, it was tabled, but at a meeting this week, that body reconsidered its action, lifted the ordinance from the table, and passed it.

Although reports that the company was lowering gas pressure in the village aroused citizens there, the company did not regulate low pressure of the village intentionally, according to Mr. Irwin. Changing regulators in order to have them repaired, and the substitution of a temporary regulator caused low pressure in the village one day only, according to the Xenia manager. The low pressure, he said, was unavoidable until the operation of the temporary regulators could be tested and adjusted later to give the proper amount of gas.

What action the company would pursue should the Xenia City Commission continue to ignore the proposed ordinance here, is problematical, according to Mr. Irwin, who does not believe that gas pressure would be cut off here that event. An appeal to the Public Utilities Commission for a general rate increase would probably be the course followed by the gas company, he said. So far no action has been taken, although the ordinance was tabled by the commission sometime ago.

The proposed ordinance would raise the rate of 95 cents for the first 1,000 feet, fixing it at 50 cents for all over that amount, with five cent discount in ten days.

ARCADE BILLIARD HALL IS SOLD TO REGAN THURSDAY

Sale of the Arcade billiard hall and cigar store, located on South Detroit Street, by L. E. John, owner to A. L. Regan as completed Thursday evening through the agency of T. C. Long, realtor, was made public Friday.

Mr. Regan, for 12 years superintendent of the Hooven and Allison Company Mills, having general charge of the mills in Xenia, Cincinnati, Covington, Ky., and Kansas City, Mo., has resigned his position and assumed active management of his new business Thursday night. He will be assisted in the business by his son Leroy Regan.

The sale of the Arcade billiard hall is the second transfer in which this business has figured in recent months. The business was started by Roy C. Hayward and C. F. Taylor, when they moved their billiard hall from its East Main Street location to the South Detroit street stand. L. E. John who relinquished the property through Thursday's sale, purchased the business last March from V. B. Harness. Since acquiring the Arcade last March, Mr. John has operated it in conjunction with his billiard hall on East Main Street. In selling the South Detroit Street business, he retains the East Main street establishment and will continue to operate it.

Cost of Beauty

My Cost, $100,000—Yours, 50c a Week

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My quest of beauty cost mother and me at least $100,000. We searched the world to get the best that science had to offer.

But those helps made me famous as a beauty. And they have kept me a youthful beauty to my grand old age.

Now I want others to enjoy those same helps. I have arranged so all may get them. Any girl or woman may use all my helps at a cost not over 50c per week.

White Youth Clay

My skin is like a baby's yet my age is 62. I owe that largely to a super-clay which France created for me.

Not like the crude and muddy clays so many still employ. The clay is white refined and dainty. It is based on 27 years of scientific study. No old-time clay brings comparable results.

I call this my White Youth Clay. It purges the skin of all that clogs it—the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings that rosy afterglow which so amazes and delights. It combats all lines and wrinkles and reduces enlarged pores.

How it multiplies beauty, how it keeps youthful bloom, is shown by my complexion. No girl or woman can afford to go without it. The cost is 50c and 1¢.

Two Master Creams

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser which I also found in France. Great beauty experts the world over now employ it but they charge too much.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. It simply cleans to the depths then departs. All the dirt, oil, grime and dead skin come out with it. One never knows what a clean skin means until she cleans it this way. My Facial Youth costs 75c.

My Youth Cream is my cold cream—another French creation. It contains both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to foster the skin texture. I use it as a night cream also daytimes as a powder base.

Every hour I keep my skin fostered and protected by it. This matchless cream—my Youth Cream—costs you 60c per jar.

My Hair Youth

My hair is my greatest glory. It is silky, lustrous, luxuriant and grows finer every day. Dandruff, falling hair and gray hair are unknown to me.

This hair which millions envy is due to my Hair Youth. I apply it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. There it combats hardened oil and dandruff, which stifle the hair roots. It stimulates and fertilizes. Then hair thrives just as flowers thrive in a well kept garden. One minute a day does all this. My Hair Youth with eye dropper costs 50c and 1¢.

All druggists and toilet counters now supply Edna Wallace Hopper's products. With each comes a guarantee. Experts tell me that these are the best helps in existence. I hope that they did for me and mine will induce you to try them. Edna Wallace Hopper, Business address, Waukesha, Wis.

Note: Miss Hopper is now appearing twice daily in the Pantages Theatres of the Pacific Coast and western states.

WHY YOUR DOCTOR ADVISES TONIC AT THIS TIME OF YEAR

There are lots of people who seldom really feel their best at this time of year. Certain foods do not agree with them; they suffer from indigestion after meals, sleep poorly nights and wake up feeling dull, tired and often constipated. Frequently their systems are so run-down they cannot throw off colds and such wintry ills. As a result there are many needless days of suffering.

Take a good tonic and build yourself up! Try just a spoonful of Dr. Thacher's after the next few meals and notice the quick difference in the way you look, eat, sleep and feel. Tune up your system and feel your best. Have rich, red blood to keep you warm this winter. Druggists are authorized to return the small cost unless you are completely satisfied.

NEWSPAPER VALUATIONS.

The recent sale of The Marion Star owned by the late President Harding, for $500,000 has elicited interested comment and speculation over the country regarding newspaper valuations, as the amount obtained for The Star caused a gasp of astonishment from those unfamiliar with the business.

Analyzed impartially the sum brought by this newspaper with a circulation less than 11,000 and published in a city of 30,000 is quite interesting. One has only to refer to other newspaper sales of the recent past to understand the tremendous investment which the newspaper business of today represents.

It is no secret that the Pittsburgh Press, with a circulation of 150,000 daily and 200,000 on Sunday, cost its new owners more than $6,000,000. It is also a matter of record that former Governor Cox paid $350,000 for the Miami (Florida) Metropolis, and $425,000 for the Canton (Ohio) News. The Miami newspaper has a circulation of about 9,000 and the Canton property about 20,000.

These figures, perhaps, place new standards of valuation on newspaper properties, but they clearly indicate the scale on which the newspaper business is conducted, and the outlay of capital for a successful enterprise.

It took the late Mr. Harding 40 years to build up The Star from a $900 failure to a half million dollar success—years of back-breaking and spirit-wearing labor, characteristic of the exacting nature of the business.

THE STONE PILE.

The prison farm, the state roads and the stone quarries in the opinion of many penologists, offer a prospect of human reclamation infinitely superior to passive incarceration, which generally means mere dry rot, mental and physical. Condemn a man to sit with folded hands in a cell and there is little hope of restoring him to useful membership in the social order. With measureless time to brood over old crimes or plan the perpetration of new ones, there is confirmed in him the anti-social, Ishmaelite disposition which may enlist him in the ranks of evil beyond redemption.

Of course, a man who has lived off the proceeds of crime loathes the thought of hard manual labor, and the prospect increase the deterrent force of a judge's sentence.

All campaigns against the inhumanities of chain-gangs and prison-camps for the convict should discriminate between the penalty itself and the way penalty is enforced. An inhuman administration can turn the most humane provision into hellish torment.

It is a mistaken sentimentality that—because of hypothetical abuses—would deprive the prisoner of occupation. It is mistaken for two reasons: it militates against the welfare of the man himself and it increases the menace to society. Idleness, said a wise man of old, is minister and nurse of vices; and this is true in prison or out of it.

PAPER BAGS IN SCOTLAND.

When American prohibitionists offered the shopkeepers of Scotland free paper bags with dry propaganda printed thereon the offer, of course, was accepted. That was Scotch cannies. Then when the anti-prohibitionists proposed to print their propaganda on the other side of the bags, that offer was accepted, too. This probably was Scotch sentiment. At all events, a merry war of propaganda is being carried on by means of the parcels in which the housewife takes home her tea or the good man is bottle. Scotland votes on the dry question next month. It can't be much of an issue in Scotland, however. All the Scotch whiskey is being shipped to the United States.

Today's Talk

THE LOST AND LOVED

Nature keeps giving. She considers nothing lost. And all that she gives she begs to have loved. It is by this that her law of desire is fulfilled.

Who is it reaps the perfume of the flower from the topmost mountain or the blue gown'd smile deep in the valley? Who saves the peasant's song as his plow turns the dirt for the coming harvest? Who listens to catch the plodder's aspiration as he wipes the sweat from his brow, says nothing, but dreams on and on?

Where do the inspired notes of the master's violin lodge and slumber? In the softened lights of the spacious room, or out under the gold of the mellow moon, who is it that adequately measure the simplicity, the tenderness and the beauty that is here so devoutly loved, yet to so many forever lost?

Nature creates every minute. Not a second is a lost second to her. What varieties to the song of the nightingale, as it warbles its happy soul into the hours of silence and darkness.

According to our capacities are we raised to greatness by the simple appeals of the silent voices about us, whether they come from the throat of a bird, from the waft of some cool wind, or from God whispering to His flowers along the brook.

Beauty is like love—it can come only to him who is worthy to receive it.

The very air we breathe is something more than oxygen and broken elements in space. What we breathe are the signs of the lost and loved, the budding, the blooming and the dying.

The breath of God meets ours and gives vitality to our immortal souls.

Good bakings are becoming a matter of fact in this country. Years ago, the woman who had success on bake day was rare. Now, most anyone can be proud of their bakings,—the young bride, the school-girl and all.

Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder, has made all this possible, it is sitting on the pantry shelf in millions of homes, that's the secret of baking success—the real reason for uniform and wholesome food.

If you are among the few who are not familiar with the results obtained from using Calumet, try it—learn the difference between the results that come from using a perfect leavener and those that are experienced when using unreliable brands.

To follow the directions on the Calumet label is to invite success. You must not use as much as you do of many other kinds. You know Calumet has greater leavening strength than many other brands—it goes farther—makes more bakings—the last spoonful is as good as the first.

EVERY INGREDIENT USED OFFICIALLY APPROVED BY U. S. FOOD AUTHORITIES

Sales 2 1/2 times as much as that of any other brand

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

BY SIDNEY THATCHER

Merchants leave cash register drawers open to prevent potential burglars smashing the register. They leave safes ajar to preclude yeggs wrecking the safe. Householders will soon have to leave doors and windows open to prevent thieves from wrecking their domiciles.

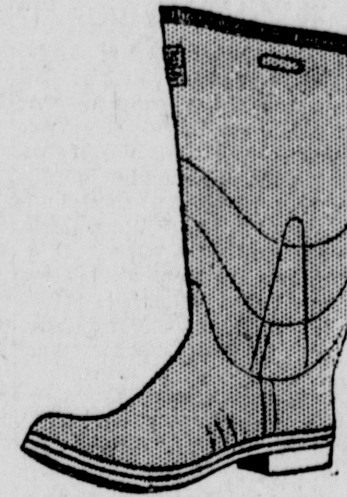

The other day a man completed 43 years of service as a section foreman and employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad. He retired to spend the rest of his days in rest. During his 43 years it was his duty to keep the tracks and right of way in repair and in good appearance. Railroads must run on steel tracks. Should these tracks be broken or fall in disrepair, wrecks would follow and loss of life would accrue. Therefore keeping the tracks in repair must be a responsible position. On the shoulders of those who work at the task, rests the responsibility of preventing wrecks. Weak rails must be guarded against and replaced. The section foreman straightens his back momentarily during the day to wave greeting to the president of railroad Hemphill, and druggists everywhere, passing in his personal observation.

car. The president has servants at his elbow and works at his task of being president in the most pretentious surroundings. His way to the foreman is the contact between capital and labor. Neither can survive without the other. Were there no railroad presidents there would be no tracks for the foreman to repair. If there were no repairmen, the president of the railroad could not run his road. The section foreman who retired after 43 years of repairing tracks was P. G. Cronin, of 30 Maple Street.

With the first course out of the way, football fans will sit down this week end to the meat of the 1923 gridiron menu.

Teams in action all over the country find many playing important and interesting inter-sectional contests. Local interest center in the Xenia-Greenville game at Greenville Saturday the East Side-American game at Dickerson Park Sunday, the K 4 A's St. Paul A. C. game at Washington Park Sunday and the East High-Wilberforce Academy game at Cox field Monday.

Ohio Conference interest in this section centers in the Wittenberg-Wesleyan conflict at Springfield when the new Lutheran stadium will be dedicated. The game will be a little as it affects importantly the Conference standings, with Wesleyan given a shade to win.

Other conference games include Akron at Denison; Oberlin at Miami; Hiram at Otterbein; Cincinnati at Ohio; Case at Wooster; Ohio Northern at Reserve; Kenyon at Mt. Union; Non-conference games include St. Xavier's meeting with John Carroll of Cleveland in the Ohio Catholic championship series; Wilmington meeting Muskingum at Delaware; Dayton meeting Marietta at Dayton and Baldwin-Wallace at Ashland.

Intersectional interest centers in the Notre Dame-Princeton combat, especially since Notre Dame's defeat of the Army last week and Alabama's meeting with the Army.

Other interesting Eastern games are the contests between Colgate and Cornell, Springfield and Lafayette, Navy and Penn State, Pittsburgh and Syracuse, Bucknell and Yale and Carnegie Tech and Washington and Jefferson.

Big Ten interest in this section revolves around the Ohio State-Michigan game at Ann Arbor Saturday but other important Western Conference contests are Illinois at Iowa; Wisconsin at Indiana; Northwestern at Chicago. South Dakota plays Minnesota, Wabash meets Purdue, Bradley plays Lombard and Kansas plays Nebraska in the south Centre plays Oglethorpe.

CENTRAL HIGH TO PLAY GREENVILLE HIGH 11 SATURDAY

Announcement that the Xenia Central High-Greenville football game will not be played until Saturday at Greenville, gives Coach Earl Burger's athletes one more day of practice this week to condition themselves for a victory.

Playing games on Friday, gives the athletes only four days for rehearsals before each game, but Greenville authorities refuse to play any of their contests except on Saturday. Sentiment at the school indicates that the blue and white warriors will tackle the Darke County aggregation with the full determination of wresting its first victory of the 1923 season from the Greenville eleven.

Little is known of the ability of the Greenville team this fall. The eleven did not open its season until last Saturday, winning from Bradford, by an imposing margin but the victory does not give fans any comparative dope on the teams that get together Saturday.

The Central High eleven has been playing a consistent game all season, losing all three contests played to date. With likely looking material, there is no real reason for the team going to pieces so completely after boasting of two championship elevens and while fans appreciate the fact that the team is inexperienced they do not condone the loose play and lack of spirit that has marked the eleven to date.

In Captain Don Fuller, Holton and Zell, the team has three good plungers and all are good defensive backfield men. Horner has developed into a crack center. Scurry and Keller take care of the tackles nicely and Doggett has been performing well at guard. Numerous experiments have been necessary in the attempt to fill the other guard position and the ends have also been a source of worry.

Students of the play of the locals this season believe Art Currie, veteran backfield man would find himself at an end this season. Currie can and will tackle, knows the game, has a prior sense of the way the play is going and can catch a pass. Holton, Zell and Fuller are essentially backfield men or linemen and Currie can be shifted to an end with the least difficulty. With West Milton running the ends as it did in two games, an adept tackler at one of the flanks would have been a big aid in these games. Washburn veteran flanker, is still out with a sore knee and will not be able to play Saturday, although he is loosening up his knee for the game next week.

With Currie at end, Bortoff could play quarter back, a position he seemed capable of filling in two games this fall. On defensive play, Bortoff, who is a weak tackler in the open field, could be used at full back where he would be valuable in backing up the line. Holton could be witted to half and Fuller could play defensive quarter.

MY OWN SUMMONED TO BELMONT; MAY RACE PAPYRUS

New York, Oct. 19.—After Zev, star three-year-old of the Sinclair string about whose ability to race there is some suspicion, has been galloped five furlongs at Belmont Park, decision will be made sometime today by his trainer, Sam Hildreth as to whether he will be sent to the post or withdrawn from the $100,000 match race with Papyrus, English champion, tomorrow.

This is declared by prominent horsemen here to be the latest development behind the summoning of My Own to Belmont in the role of possible substitute.

As we have been given to understand, Hildreth's decision will not be made public in the event that Zev proves his condition. In fact, it is said, that everything will be done to dissipate the impression that Zev's fitness was ever doubted by Jockey Club's committee, provided, of course, the colt satisfies Hildreth of his condition. This allegation is borne out by a statement issued by C. J. Fitzgerald, personal representative of August Belmont. He referred to the hurry call for My Own as merely a "precautionary measure" and added that it was inspired by fear of a last-minute accident to Zev.

He did not explain, however, why this commendable spirit of caution did not manifest itself until two days before the race, necessitating a hasty shipment of "My Own" and imposing obvious handicaps on the Grayson colt.

The latter, in fact, could not leave Laurel until 9 o'clock this morning, according to Admiral Grayson's statement from Washington. No time was available for a last workout and this was taken to mean that My Own will either indulge in an informal gallop upon his arrival today or go to the post cold, in the event that he is named as Zev's substitute.

EAST SIDE ELEVEN TO MAKE DEBUT WITH DAYTON AMERICANS

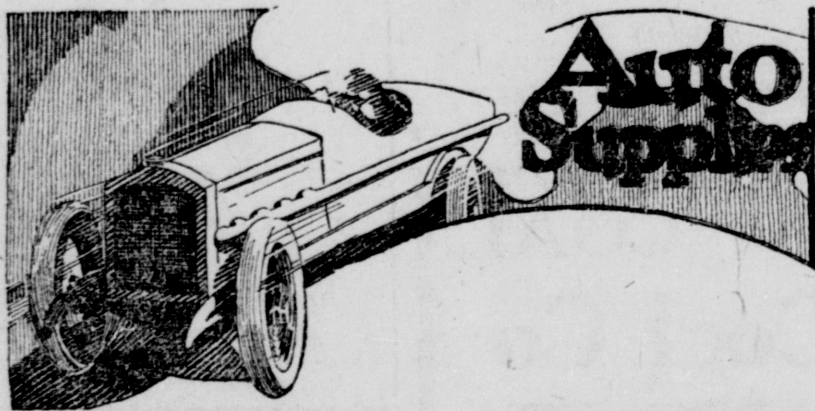

The East Side Athletic Club football team will make its gridiron debut at Dickerson Park next Sunday afternoon, meeting the American football team of Dayton.

The game will mark the first attempt of the colored athletes to put a first class gridiron in the field and the initial contest will be watched with interest. Former high school and college stars compose the eleven and initial workouts have indicated that the eleven will be well able to take care of itself against opposing teams this fall.

Allen Borden, former Xenia Central High gridiron star, will be found at halfback on the new eleven and his brother, Fred Borden, will take care of the other half. Both were members of the American Legion eleven last year and the year before. "Red" Anderson is assigned the quarterbacking job for which "Chic" Smith is giving him a close race.

"Coot" Jackson, 218 pound center, will cover the ball and Harris and Cunningham will take care of the ends. Jamison, Buford, Vaughn, Thomas, Bowser, Pettiford and Marsh make up the rest of the team. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock and women will be admitted free, the admission for men being 35 cents.

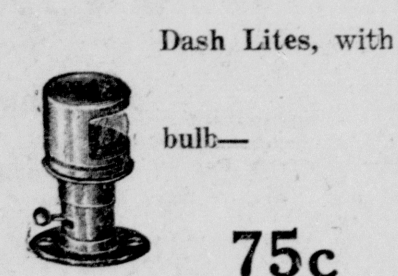

The eleven will take the field in entirely new uniforms and equipment. Practice will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Water Tower Park.

Health Hints
by the Father of Physical Culture

The question of the ideal weight must ever remain an individual one; no two people even of the same sex are born with the same inherited capacities for bodily growth and development. Not only is there a difference which once attained cannot be materially altered, but there are fundamental differences in build or type which should be considered. Some frames are heavier than others, the bones are actually larger; also there are differences in relative breadth of frame in relation to height.

The muscular development is far more within the control of the individual than the skeleton, or the size of the vital organs. Most people under civilized conditions are sadly lacking in muscular development; only a very few attain the full maximum muscular development of which they are inherently capable. Almost all men, and more certainly all women, could materially improve the development by muscular exercise.

But even with the most thorough regime of physical exercise there will still be distinct differences in the degree of heaviness of the muscular development. Some will develop large and exceedingly strong muscles; others, even with the same exercise, will develop muscles of a lighter type, perhaps adapted to dexterity and speed and wiry endurance. When all these facts are considered it is seen that any table of ideal weights, even properly arranged for heights and sex, will still fail as a guide for a particular individual. The far better source of knowledge from which to determine the ideal weight is a well trained conception of the ideal—or more properly ideals—for their distinct types—of physical beauty. This sense for bodily beauty is instinctive in us all, but may be cultivated by the observation of such beauty, as expressed by painters and sculptors, or even better, as observed from the development of living individuals or their photographs.

One point of caution only is needed—the ideals of physical beauty have not always been maintained upon the basis of the admiration of physical efficiency or muscular development. The ancient Greeks did maintain such ideals and the imitation of their art has done much to preserve these ideals even in ages when the original ideals of physical development were lost to a world struggling between the puritanical conception that everything connected with the body was indecent and unclean, and the licentious conception that the only physical beauty was that which would stimulate passion and lust.

The practice of the puritanical world has usually been to hide the body particularly the female body, or to distort it with mutilations achieved by insane fashions in dress. Happily these absurdities have largely disappeared from the mind of the present generation and the styles in clothing of the present day, though by no means perfect are more sensible and more artistic than anything that has prevailed since classic periods.

Williamson is attorney for the plaintiff.

THREE WANT DIVORCES

Emma Hall married Russell Hall December 28, 1915, at Flemingsburg, Ky., but on February 5, 1922, the defendant was sent to the Kentucky State Penitentiary at Frankfort, Ky., for life. She asks for divorce. There are no children.
Fred Shaw charges his wife Gertrude Shaw with gross neglect of duty for two years, declaring she drove him away from home. They were married June 24, 1914 and have two children, Robert and Glenna.

SUES ON ACCOUNT
The W. E. Long Company has brought suit against Paul Stiles, do-in-business as The Stiles Baking Co., in Common Pleas Court to recover $460.74 alleged due on account. J. K. Williamson is attorney for the plaintiff.

SUES ON NOTES
Seven promissory notes, each for $25, are the basis for the suit of the United States Machinery Company against Joseph E. Cotton, of Wilberforce, seeking recovery of the amount. The plaintiff asks for foreclosure on a Hoffman pressing machine on which a chattel mortgage is held. Miller and Finney represent the plaintiffs.

CASE IS APPEALED
Appealing from a judgment in the court of S. W. Fulton, justice of the peace, the case of Dr. William Henry, veterinarian against Harry Lieurance has reached Common Pleas Court. The plaintiff claims $51.61 due for professional services and received a judgment for $50. He appealed.

THE "LAMB"

"The lamb is sheared again." What is a lamb?
It is a common saying that the wolves of Wall street shear the lamb. We think of the lamb as a poor honest man who is deliberately tricked into giving up his money.
What is a lamb?
The commonest type is just a plain fool. He is not invited into the stock market. They can't keep him out. He forces his way in against all sound investment advice; he wants to get something for nothing; he follows the get-rich-quick trail; he climbs right into the poorhouse.
The lamb usually has no one to blame but himself.
